God Rest You Merry, Gentlemen - Wikipedia

God Rest Ye Merry, Gentlemen. The original word merry means “happy” for us. But the original word “merry” means strong — “God rest you strong, gentlemen...” You know, Robin Hood's band of Merry Men were not happy men—they may well have been happy men, but that's not the point of Robin Hood's Merry Men.

God Rest Ye Merry, Gentlemen | First Presbyterian Church ...

God Rest Ye Merry, Gentlemen is thought to be at least 700 years old and was a way to teach the masses about the Christian sentiments during the holiday season for a public that would have been illiterate. The song itself would have been used as a teaching tool and way to spread the word of God during the holiday season and beyond.

Summary: Jeremiah declared that Jesus would be a King, a righteous branch, and our righteousness. What do those titles mean to us and what is it about Jesus that would give us comfort and joy? In fact, some people (I’m told) don’t even wait that long – they just nod off right in church. But that’s not what the song title originally meant. “God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen” is actually an “old English” phrase which means something entirely different. The title of the song isn’t about “resting.

God Rest Ye Merry - Canon Press

At the start of 2015 we ran a one-off live-action game called God Rest Ye Merry. It was a ghost story set at Christmas 1954 about an extended family returning to their ancestral home for the first time in years. We hired a sprawling, creaky old mansion on Exmoor and filled it with props, documents and special effects.

"God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen" was the most famous and most loved of all the early carols. Written with an upbeat melody and speaking of the birth of Jesus in joyful terms, the song may have shocked early church leaders, but it charmed their flocks. Not only did they sing to this carol, they danced to it.

StoriesBehindChristmasSongs - Ace Collins

"God Rest Ye Merry, Gentlemen" was one of these. Its lively tune appropriately reflects the joy and celebration prompted by news of the Saviour's birth. The angel told the shepherds his message was "good tidings of great joy," and they realized it was so.
